

LIGHTS! CAMERA! MARYLAND!

MARYLAND ON SCREEN

Maryland has long enjoyed an outstanding reputation as a film-friendly state – whether for major feature films, television series, commercials or independent films.

Often referred to as “America in Miniature”, Maryland offers a rich array of landscapes ranging from the rolling hills of Western Maryland to the beautiful beaches of the Eastern Shore, and charming country neighborhoods and thriving urban centers imbued with a strong sense of culture and history. Within our One Maryland, you will find the versatile looks that can accommodate any production.

Our state is also home to a highly-skilled creative and technical workforce, with a supportive business community, a film production rebate fund, and our well respected Film Office that will work with you to help meet the needs of your production.

In addition to traditional film and video production, Maryland has become a top destination for innovators in the digital entertainment industry. In the fields of gaming, interactive technology, modeling and simulation, Maryland is at the forefront of new and emerging media.

I invite you to call on the Maryland Film Office, a division of our Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development, at 1-800-333-6632, or visit us on the web at www.marylandfilm.org to explore the many benefits of planning your next project in Maryland.

Sincerely,

Martin O'Malley
Governor
